Re: Thank you – Mandela Day 2017: Power Of 67 | Power Of Literacy

Dear Beth and Tanya

The team at Learning in Reach wish to thank you for the great generosity and kindness that your school have shown us, and more importantly the children of Lavender Hill.

Your contribution of 60 books will make it possible for us to deliver a personalised gift to every child in two Grade R classroom in Lavender Hill. Reading is knowledge, and knowledge is power. With this power, the children of Lavender Hill, Seawind and Hillview can now reach for the stars! Placing a book in the hands of every child is a small, fundamental step in the right direction.

Your support will also help us to continue our projects, creating a safe space for children to learn and grow, providing them with quality education, and helping parents to find their own way out of poverty.

Our goals are ambitious and to reach them we need more people like you! Please follow our progress on social media as we build a holistic ecosystem of education and social upliftment in the community of Lavender Hill. Please share our story and encourage others to join us.

We trust that the journey you have started with us is just the beginning and we welcome your continued involvement as volunteers, donors or sponsors.

We are scheduling celebrations every Monday morning. Your staff are very welcome to join us, to read to the children and share the joy of receiving a book of their very own.

Once again, thank you for making all this possible.

Warm regards
